

FIM Graphs

Spring 2007 Cohort

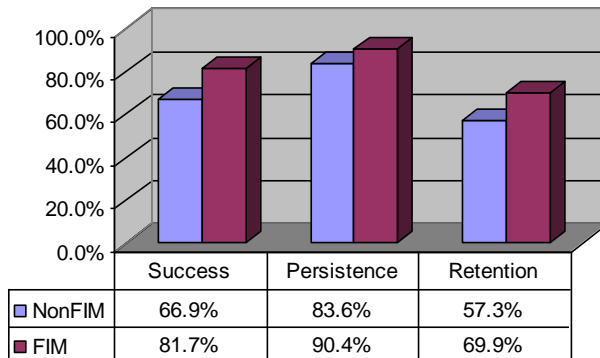

The initial spring 2007 cohort consists of students enrolled in Cultural Studies classes at Brookhaven and Mountain View Colleges. The results for Success and for Retention show statistically significant increases when compared with the general population. In addition, the Persistence of students is increased an educationally interesting result.

Fall 2007 Cohort

The fall 2007 cohort consists of students at Brookhaven, Mountain View, and Richland Colleges. The results mirror the spring 2007 results with an even more dramatic increase in Success and Retention and an increase in Persistence. Although the increase in Persistence is not statistically significant it has a compounding effect on long term enrollment.

Spring 2008 Cohort

The spring 2008 cohort consists of students enrolled in a broad range of classes at Brookhaven and Mountain View Colleges. Again, the results are dramatic and consistent with previous cohorts. In each semester, the number of students and the variety of disciplines using the FIM increased.